

Careers: Senior Research Analyst – China

Rhodium Group is recruiting a Senior Research Analyst to join the company's China Practice. The Analyst will be based in New York City but will work remotely until in-office work resumes. This is an immediate hire; therefore the candidate must be available to start work upon offer.

Position Description

Rhodium is looking for a talented Senior Research Analyst to join our world-class team of economists and specialized researchers on China's economy and global footprint. As a senior analyst with the China practice, you will support the team's efforts producing cutting-edge research on China, contributing to data collection and analysis, policy monitoring, and producing reports and other deliverables.

Position Responsibilities

- Work with Rhodium Group senior staff and partners to develop China-relative economic policy and technology affairs coverage strategy.
- Research and draft notes on areas of economic policy and technology affairs relevant to the whole of Rhodium's China team, clients, and general audiences.
- Take lead execution responsibility for multiple projects and elements of research and analysis required to enhance other projects.
- Conceptualize, design, and propose new projects for Rhodium senior staff to pursue with new and existing clients and supporters.
- Represent Rhodium Group perspectives on China-technology-related issues to the general public, communities of interest, journalists, and other outside groups.

Qualifications

Attractive candidates will have the following qualifications:

- Masters degree or higher in Asian affairs and/or economics, in addition to 5+ years of experience working in professional capacity analyzing international economic affairs with a focus on China technology matters in the government, consulting, and/or financial sectors.
- Demonstrated excellence in written and oral organization and presentation of research and analysis of China's economic matters, technology, and related subjects.
- Mandarin Chinese fluency.

- Well developed relationships and contact base in fields relevant to topical focus, including government, academia, media, commerce, and the broader research community.
- Demonstrated ability to budget, plan, and deliver projects and products.
- Demonstrated ability to manage and develop a research analyst team and coordinate project execution and product development.

Location and Travel Requirements

- The analyst can be based in New York City but will work remotely until in-office work resumes
- Occasional domestic travel (<5%)
